Bharat Forge to invest ₹1k cr in FY24-26

GEETA NAIR
Pune, August 9

BHARAT FORGE LTD (BFL) will invest ₹1,000 crore to expand local capacity during FY24-26, which would be funded out of internal accruals, Amit Kalyani, deputy managing director, said on Wednesday.

The company has signed long-term agreements up to 2035 as the industry transitions to alternative energy, the management said. "We are undertaking a fairly large and diversified capex programme in India to create capacity in our core business, EV components and systems and defence products. These capacities and facilities will come online in a phased manner over FY24-26," B N Kalyani, chairman and managing director, BFL, said in an investors' call. In the first quarter of

Baba Kalyani,
CMD of
Bharat Forge

FY24, the firm's 100% defence subsidiary KSSL commenced supplies of artillery systems as part of an export order. It will source around 30-40% of the components from its parent firm. It also won new defence orders worth ₹227.8 crore during Q1FY24 from multiple customers, which are to be executed over the next 18 months.

Meanwhile, BFL's consolidated profits in Q1 rose 27.9% to ₹311.4 crore on the back of a jump in revenues by 36% to ₹3,877.3 crore. Operating profit margins expanded 50 basis points on improved utilization.

The overseas business saw a turnaround with European operations posting an operating profit of ₹51 crore, although the US operations posted an operating loss of ₹35 crore. For FY24, the firm expected consolidated operating profits to increase from 16% to the high teens.
